

Report of the NAPEF President—2022-2023

- Your president has helped establish a good working relationship with NAP and the office staff.
- Your president has spent many hours searching through documents and maintaining the history of NAPEF.
- Your president has worked with the office staff to continually maintain the updated list of contributors and an awareness of the current financial status.
- Your president has worked with the treasurer to develop a yearly budget.
- Your president has prepared the agenda for trustee meetings and delivered the associated documents to the trustees in a very timely manner.
- Your president has attended the meetings of the Contributor and Fundraising Committee, the Grants Committee and the Planned Giving Committee.
- Your president has donated five boxes of books for the NAP online auction and has worked with other contributors and trustees, as well as the NAP President and Executive Director to provide resources for the online auction.
- Your president has contacted associations to explain the mission of NAPEF and secure additional contributions.
- Your president has served on the Finance Committee and worked with Edward Jones and the treasurer to build a strong, well-defined portfolio of foundation assets.
- Your president has contributed over $10,000 to the Foundation and is a diamond life contributor.
- Your president has written many contributor notes hoping to have contributors move to the next giving level.
- Your president has worked with the NAP Professional Development Committee and produced the materials necessary for the Presiding and Parliamentary labs as well as training facilitators. She has also conducted these labs throughout the year as well as at the 2023 Biennial Convention.
- Your president has planned and conducted numerous regular and special meetings throughout the year.

Sandra K. Olson, PRP, NAPEF President